WICHITA MARKETS.

Receipts of Live Stock at the Union Stock Yards during the past 24 hours-17 cattle, 1,773 hogs. Shipments-66 cattle, and 707 hogs.

There was no improvement in the cattle supply today. Not enough cattle on sale to cause the least activity among the buy-ers, who are much disappointed at the very light receipts during the past few days. They are very anxious to buy cattle, now, and good prices will be paid for anything good in butcher grades, also for native stock steers. The supply of hogs was very good. Both buyers for the local packers also Armour's buyer was on the market and all got their share of the offerings.

The market was active and competetion lively throughout the day. Bulk selling at $3.50 to $3.57% and top $3.60. Six cars arrived late but all were sold and at the top figures of the day. There were some rough hogs, also quite a lot of pigs which sold at $2.65 to $2.86 according to quality. Good smooth heavies brough the same as good packers grades. The close was strong.

Though women are always considered more conservative than men, in matters of dress they are generally liberal, if not radical. They welcome the new and despise the old. But in Newhaven the conservatism is strong enough even to preserve the dress unchanged. All who have visited Edinburgh know it—a dress as unique and almost as striking as that of the Scotch Highlanders. There is a superabundance they will get it. Boston, with such a pitchof petticeats, unsupported by any appli- ing force as it possesses, its good hitters ances of art to swell out the proper degree and base runners, seems most of bunchiness necessary to the style. They wear a cap of linea or muslin, over chin, upon which the broad leather band "creel" rests on the head. They have gaily colored Garibaldi bodices, generally turned up to the elbows and open at the threat, showing a snewy wimpled under vest. A large dark blue pea jacket, generally with a bood, surmounts the other garments to prevent the soil and wear of the heavy creel or fish basket. The unmarried women wear the same attire, but without the cap. How the women manage to keep themselves as clean as they do with a slimy and scaly burden and business is a marvel. It must be noted, however, that other fisherwomen from further east partly imitate their dress, but do not keep up the same spot-less purity of clothes. So we must be sure gennine Newhaven fishwoman.-Woman's 'Yesterday," said the moon to me, "I looked down upon a small court yard sur-rounded on all sides by houses. In the court yard sat a clucking hen with eleven chickens, and a pretty little girl was running and jumping around them. The ben was frightened and screemed and spread out her wings over the little brood. Then the girl's father came out and scolded her, and I glided away and thought no more of the matter.

"But this evening, only a few minutes ago, I looked down into the same court yard. Everything was quiet. But pres-ently the little girl came forth again, crept quietly to the hen house, pushed back the bolt and slipped into the apartment of the hen and chickens. They cried out loudly and came fluttering down from their perches and ran about in dismay and the little girl ran after them. "I saw it quite plainly, for I looked through a hole in the henhouse wall. Both Leagues Are Likely to Finish Out the Season.

W. I. HARRIS' VIEW OF THE CASE.

Many Changes in the Make Up of the Leagues Will Probably Occur Next Season-Baltimore May Enter the League. The Pennant Will Stay East.

There are no indications of any split in the strouit of either of the big leagues, and both may be expected to finish out the season on their present lines. Neither are there any indications other than straws as to next season's lines, but these straws are some of them of a kind that foreshadow coming events. It is certain that the Players' league will abundon Buffalo and possibly Brooklyn, and the three cities on which they have cast their eyes particularly are Cincinnati, Detroit and Baltimore, Where the Buffalo team will be put depends a good deal on the game put up by the reorganized Bisons. As the team stood and played prior to July 27 it would hardly be welcomed anywhere. Hence the efforts being made to strengthen it. If the addition of Cunningham, Fastz and Twitchell and one or two other players in view makes the team strong enough to win a respectable portion of its remaining games and play good bail even in defeat the team will be very likely to go to Detroit. If it makes an extraordinary front its chances in Bultimore are likely to be considered. The growing belief is that Ward's team good. About the only thing that will keep the Players' league out of Cincinnati is the winning of the league pennant by Mr. Stearn's present team, an event that does not now seem likely to happen, although still possible. The only change in the league circuit likely to occur is the abandonment of Pitta-Nothing can keep a team there for 1891, it seems to me, short of the entire collapse of the Players' league, a very unlikely event this year. The successor of Pittsburg was at one time thought to be Indianapolis, but I think this is wrong. Indianapolis like Washington, is for the present a dead duck in the major league baseball pond. Everything to me points one way, and that is to Baltimore. One of the best ball towns aside from the four big cities, it has team greatly strengthened is more than a probability for the National league circuit of 1891. The championship of both leagues will come east, and the chances are good that one pennant of the two will float at Boston. Kelly's men in the Player's league should win unless they fall down in a way unlooked for now. They will win it on their batting and base running abilities. "Old Hoss" Radbourn will pitch about every day in the wind up, and with Gumbart in his present form to fill in king" and his comrades ought to land the rag, although Ewing and Ward will push

In the National league, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston will make a terrific combat. About the only thing that will beat the Phillies out is their lack of pitch ers. Gleason can hardly pitch every game. If he could they might win the trick. If Clarkson, Nichols and Getzein keep their present pace it looks as if Boston would be the winner. Perhaps Al Reach will hustle up a pitcher from somewhere. Doran, of the New Havens, can be had for money, and it would pay Reach to get him. At any rate one more good pitcher would in crease the chances for the success of Reach's team very materially. The Brooklyns are

That now Mutrie's men are batting in derful work the team couldn't hit a bal-That the Phillies have the first real chance to win a League championship they have had since the club was organized. That Bosten and Brooklyn are the only clubs that have any license to beat them out. That there is only one man who deserted him that Al Reach would take back. That Buck Ewing thinks he could pick a team of worki besters out of the men under contract with the two New York clubs

That he could That if he did the team would be some thing like this: Keefe, Welch, Rusie and Crane, pitchers; Ewing, Buckley Clarke, catchers; Denny, Richardson, Bas-sett, Connor and Glasscock, infielders; Johnston, Gore, Tiernan, O'Rourke and Hornung, outdelders.

That Jee Gerhardt is playing as good a second base as he ever did in his palmiest That John Burdock has been finally eliminated from the baseball arena. Likewise Jack Farrell.

That both sides are giving out queer attendance figures.

That certain journalists are busy preparing themselves to digret a goodly portion of the proverbial dish of erow. That neither side will quit That both sales publicly declare a com-promise impossible, while both sacretly hope that one can be agreed upon.

That certain players will be all right no matter which way the wind blows. That certain other players won't be. That the Giants will make a great play for the Players' league pensent, but will be short a stride at thereira. That if the "new masters" facist upon taking these three garass away from Boston there will be an awful rumpus.

That h's even besting they wou't do it. That Combhay's crew will not finish one, two, three. That the borab had a defective fun-That Catcher Dours, of the Cleveland league team, expects to go behind the bat when Zimmer falls dend.
